AWAKENINGS

By Jo Witek, illustrations by Emmanuelle Halgand, music by Flavia Perez

May 2021
17 x 21.5 cm
22 pages - Hardcover
€ 12.90

This series invites parents to read stories aloud to their children — from newborns up — encouraging them to communicate, express themselves and start talking...

Stories that will inspire parents to read, sing, dance, play and have fun with their children. Share the sounds, rhythms and dances that the world of words has to offer.

BATH DUCKS

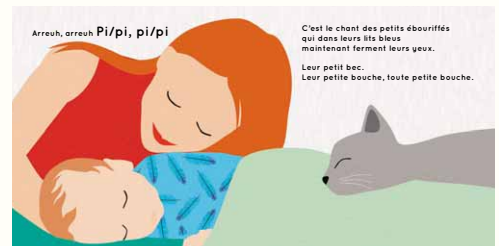

Bath ducks is a fun aquatic and acoustic voyage to go along with baby's bath time. What if the bath became a pond or an ocean? You would be able to hear ducks and seagulls from the house!

THE LITTLE BLUE JAY

For babies, words are as musical as birdsong. The Little Blue Jay is an exciting foray into the sounds and rhythms of our language. An interactive story that invites babies to play with their voices.

THIS IS FOR ME AND THIS IS FOR YOU!

By Nadine Brun-Cosme & Elsa Fouquier

A book about that special moment when the oldest child meets the baby.

Max and his Daddy are in a hurry—today is a very special day! They are getting ready to meet Mommy at the hospital.

A picture book about the place and role of the oldest child, tenderly illustrated by Elsa Fouquier and just the right words from Nadine Brun-Cosme.

RUN, LITTLE MOUSE!

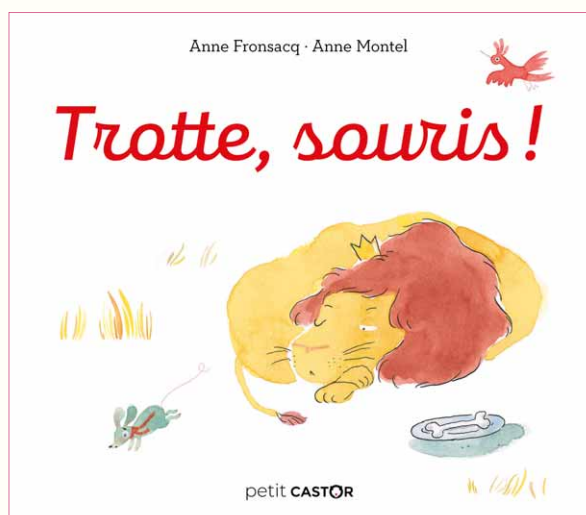

By Anne Fronsacq & Anne Montel

A book all about mastering your fears.

Plop! A leaf falls to the ground. In her burrow, the mouse is very scared...

She runs as fast as she can to get away from her fear, even if it means accidentally frightening a zebra, a lion, a hippopotamus, a giraffe, a rhinoceros, and an elephant.

When you are still little, like the tiny mouse, even the slightest noise can be scary. What a delight for young readers to see that when you're big, you can be scared, too! A book that helps children learn to distinguish between imaginary and real danger.

VOL.3 – SUFFED CUDDLY TOY

A lovely story to tackle the big challenge in every toddler's life: being separated from their favorite stuffed toy!

Muffy loves her stuffie more than anything else in the world.

In fact, she takes her stuffie everywhere. He smells like hot chocolate, toothpaste, and grass.

He also smells like strawberry yogurt, Mommy's perfume, and even pasta sauce.

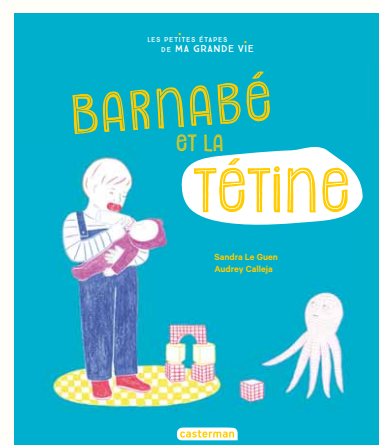

So when Daddy and Mommy decide to wash him because he smells yucky, Muffy doesn't understand... And feels completely lost!

Stuffed animals are an essential part of young children's lives.

A beautiful book that helps children with the stress of being separated from a beloved stuffed toy and gives them reassuring comfort.

Features rhyming text and gentle, sensitive illustrations.

THE SWORN ENEMY

By Sandra Le Guen & Marie Paruit

Adventures are serious stuff!

Today, Mabelle, Mox, and Mouche, three little herons, are off on an adventure.

They are going to face their sworn Enemy, and it's no joke!

Adventures are far, so you have to leave with a full tummy.

Adventures are long, so you need a big sweater and a snack.

Adventures are dangerous, so you need binoculars and a sword... and maybe your teddy bear, as well!

A story about the powers of imagination and the bravery it takes, when you're little, to face your sworn enemy—even if you don't really know who they are!

THE MOST IMPORTANT THING IN THE THREE LITTLE PIGS

By Anne-Gaëlle Balpe & Elise Garcette

A new, original, playful take on fairy tales!

What is the most important thing in "The Three Little Pigs"?

The pigs, you say. No! Well then, the wolf? No again! Then what could it be???

By humorously revisiting the components of the well-known fairy tale, this book teaches that when you read a story, there is always "something" that is "the most important thing," "something" that is always there.

It's quite simply... the reader!

An ode to reading, imagination, and humor!

A highly original, hilarious story!

PLOG, THE ELEPHANT LOOKING FOR A JOB

By Stéphanie Demasse-Pottier & Marion Barraud

When you don't want to do what others have set out for you to do, it's the start of an adventure!

Plog is a circus elephant. In his family, everyone can spin plates with panache and walk perfectly balanced on a tightrope. That's just how it is, from one generation to the next. There's no room to question it.

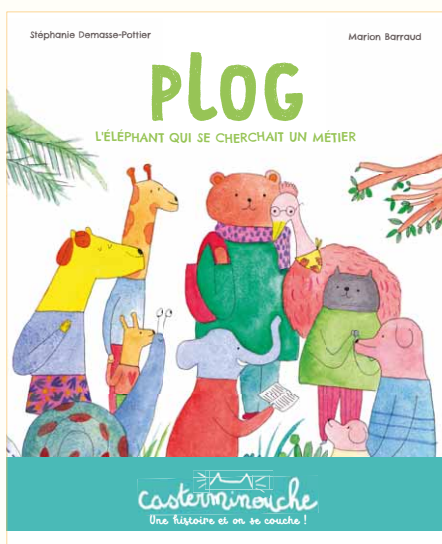

Plog's life is all mapped out. But Plog dreams of doing something else. What? He doesn't know. But he's set on finding his own path.

So he heads off on an adventure and tries lots of things: babysitting ostriches, gardening on the moon, cooking for earthworms...

But what if, in the end, the thing Plog really likes to do is tell stories?

A book about adventure and independence that will speak to all.

Because when you're little, it's not always easy to know what you like doing and affirm yourself. A book about freedom and autonomy that the youngest of readers can relate to!

I WANT MAGIC POWERS

By Patricia Berreby & Charles Dutertre

May 2021

20.2 x 26.2 cm

32 pages

€ 13.90

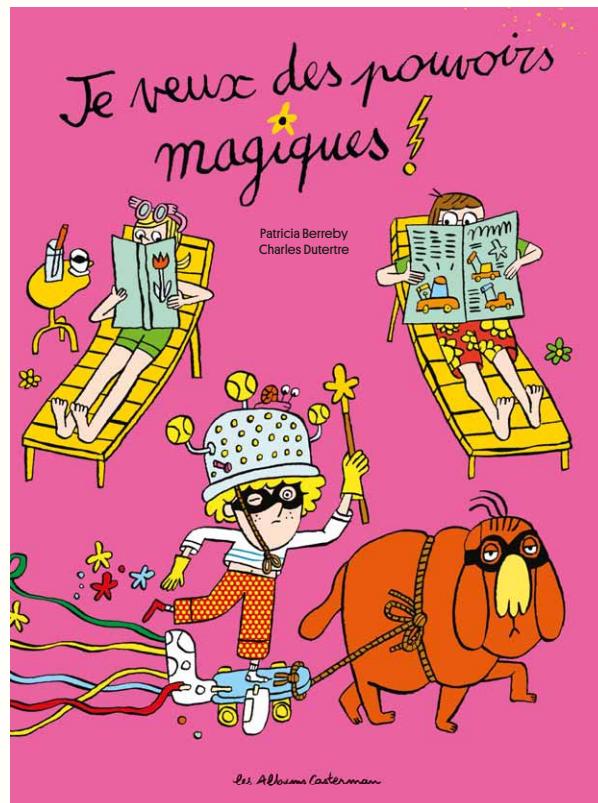

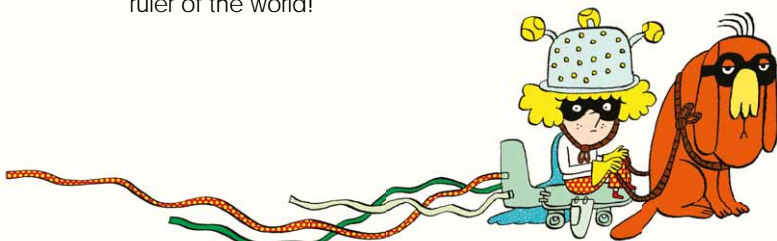

No more complaining or “I don’t want to...” — it’s time to dream and fantasize about life as only a kid can.

All it would take for the world to be perfect would be for Blaise to have infinite magic powers and be president!

Blaise is certainly a real character with a big imagination. If he had magic powers, he would change the world to make life so much better!

First, everything would be free—you could take whatever you wanted from stores. All-powerful Blaise would make everyone indestructible and immortal. Humans and animals would live together and talk to each other. There would be no more school because everyone would already know everything. There would be no more chores, and parents would never be tired other than from playing with their kids too much. Sounds like a dream, right?

For that, it just takes a little magic and for Blaise to become ruler of the world!

I DON'T WANT TO BE A CHILD ANY MORE!

By Patricia Berreby & Charles Dutertre

available

20.2 x 26.2 cm

32 pages

€ 13.90

A little boy who's never at a loss for words and is always full of ideas makes his grievances known.

Blaise isn't happy. He doesn't like being a child! He wants to do what he wants, just like grown-ups — he wants to drive a car, and drink champagne, and eat out at restaurants, and pay for things with real money. And there are some things he doesn't want people to make him do any more — he doesn't want to go to bed early just so that he can go to school, or get up, or get washed, or be sensible, or be polite, or be nice, or share.

That's all — he has said his piece.

The zany bombast of hilarious prose meets wry illustrations as I Don't Want to be a Child Any More! Introduces readers to a cheeky and engaging young hero all children will be able to relate to!

SANGO AND THE RIVER

By Jean Muzi & Djohr
available
21 x 18 cm
32 page
€ 5.25

What if we took the time to think before we acted?

Sango the monkey has to cross the river to get to his aunt's house. A huge giraffe assures him that the water isn't deep, but a tiny lizard argues the opposite.

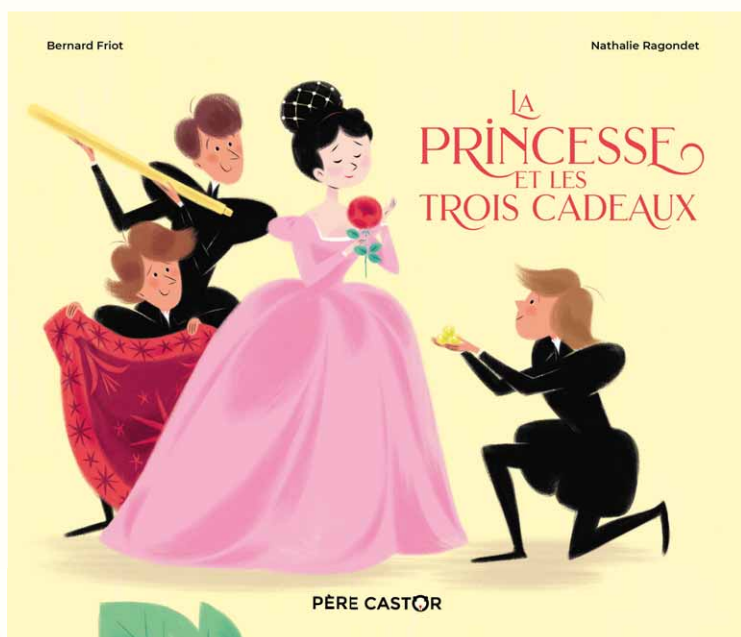

Not knowing whom to believe, Sango goes back home to ask his mommy for advice. Nothing is worth more than personal experience to form your own opinion, she tells him.

And when he crosses the river, the water goes up to Sango's shoulders.

Learning to experience things for yourself is an important part of growing up. A traditional African tale.

THE PRINCESS AND THE THREE GIFTS

By Bernard Friot & Nathalie Ragondet
available
21 x 18 cm
32 page
€ 5.25

In order to marry the princess, three brother princes each offer her the best gifts they can find.

The oldest finds a telescope, the middle brother buys a flying carpet, and the youngest chooses three grape seeds that have the power to heal her.

When the princes meet, the oldest looks through the telescope and sees that the princess is dying. The three brothers all climb on the flying carpet to join her.

And it is thanks to the grape seeds that she is saved!

But the princes fight over her hand, and in the end, the princess is the one who will choose her husband: the gardener who gave her a rose that will never wilt.

A unique fairy tale for all.

The theme of love with a feminist bent. A traditional fairytale from Italy (Tuscany) by a well-known children's author and specialist in the country and its culture.

HANS BRINKER, THE LITTLE BOY WHO SAVED HIS VILLAGE

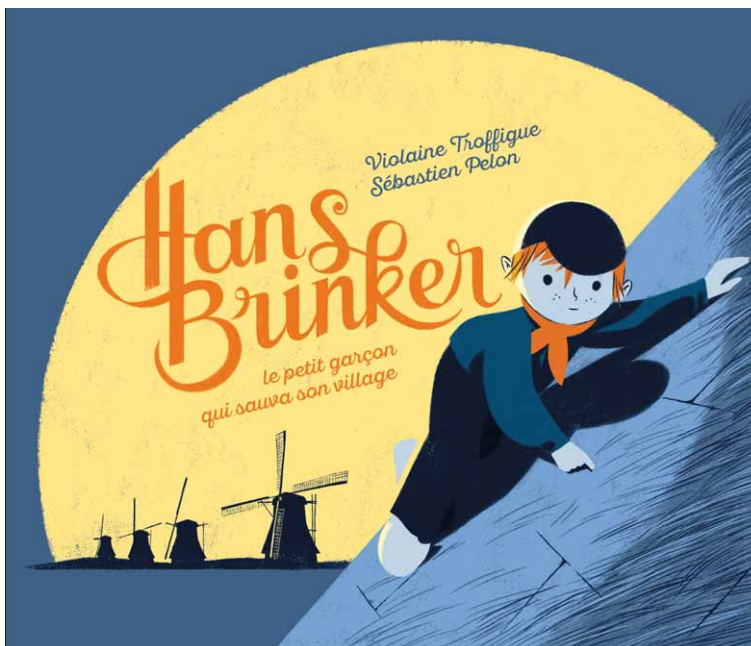

By Violaine Troffigué & Sébastien Pelon

May 2021
21 x 18 cm
32 pages
€ 5.25

When a small act does great things.

Hans lives in Holland, in a seaside village protected by a seawall. One night, as a storm is brewing, the boy notices a little hole in the seawall. A few drops quickly turn into a stream of water... If he doesn't do anything, the waves will break the seawall and flood the nearby flower fields, windmills, and villages!

Listening only to his courage, Hans stops up the seawall with his fist all night, despite the wind and cold, until the villagers find out and rescue him in the morning. That's how the little boy saved his village.

A legend stemming from the American literary classic Hans Brinker, or The Silver Skates by Mary Mapes Dodge (1865). Features the theme of climate change, rising waters and expanding land out over the sea.

A national hero whose statue can be admired in Haarlem, in the Netherlands.

VOTE WOLFE!

By Davide Cali & Magali Clavelet

available
23.1 x 27.2 cm
40 pages
€ 13.90

It's election time on the farm...
A fable with added bite!

A new leader will soon be elected to preside over the farm. The candidates for the role are usually the animals that live there. There's Peter Piggles and his 'more mud for everyone' campaign, Anne Hen, the staunch defender of the right not to lay eggs, and the Mouse brothers, whose primary concerns are all cheese-based. This year, however, an animal nobody knows and who has attracted a huge amount of attention has entered the race — Tim Wolfe.

Mr Wolfe is charming, likeable and very funny. He wants to be everyone's friend; that's his campaign pledge!

Who do you think will become the new leader?

Sold in complex Chinese,
Italian, Spanish & Korean!

A fresh take on the story of the Big Bad Wolf, with a topical narrative twist that makes it all the more entertaining. Vote Wolfe's carefully layered construction ensures that it is rich in meaning for all readers, young and old alike. A clear and straightforward overview of how elections work... coupled with a hearty dose of mordant wit!

MY GINORMOUS FAMILY TREE

By Gwendoline Raisson & Magali Le Huche

April 2021

23 x 27 cm

48 pages

€ 13.50

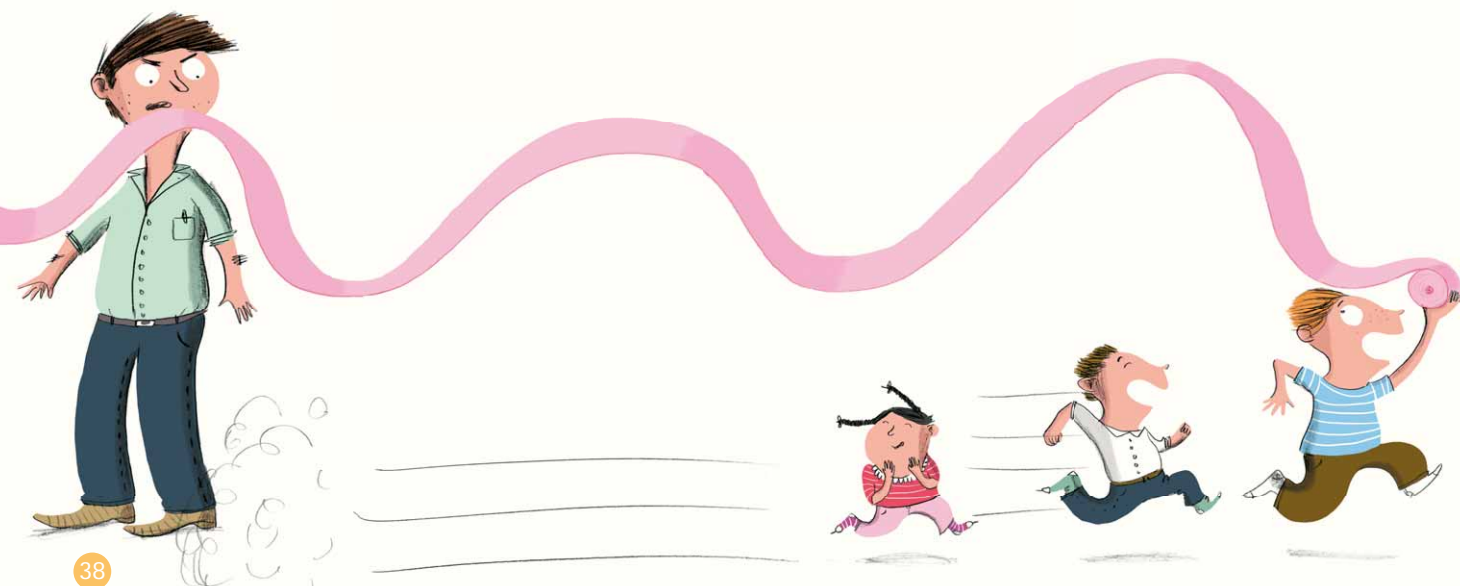

This book tackles a contemporary theme – the modern blended family – with humor, fairness, and intelligence.

Includes a poster for children to draw their own families.

Every family is different!

When you have a dad, a mom, a stepmom, a half-brother, a half-sister, a great grandma, four grandmas, almost three grandpas, aunts and uncles galore, and cousins who've only just been born, you don't just have a family tree, but a forest!

Timothée's family isn't as straightforward as his friend Camille's, but it's just as charming! Especially because it's his, and it's one-of-a-kind.

SNORING BEAUTY

By Géraldine Maincent & Héloïse Solt

May 2021

24 x 30 cm

32 pages – Printed in 5 colors

€ 13.50

What really happened after Sleeping Beauty woke up?

The classic fairy tale doesn't offer us all the details...

Yes, the sleeping princess is beautiful, but she's snoring, is covered in cobwebs, and has horrible breath! As for the Prince, he shows up in sneakers and a baseball cap, riding a scooter! So when the princess wakes up, she has quite the shock: everything is new to her, from the food and buildings to the modes of communication and transportation.

But the most amazing thing is when the Prince brings her a pizza—even the most charming of princes didn't cook 100 years ago!

Already sold in 8 languages!
English, Italian, Icelandic, Lithuanian, Polish,
Korean & complex and simplified Chinese!

The story of a lion who, bored by his rural life in the savannah, seeks excitement and opportunity in the city of light. On arrival in Paris the lion is disappointed to find that despite his size, people barely pay attention to him, not even when he lets out a ferocious roar on the busy underground Metro.

Taking in the sights and sounds of Paris this beautifully illustrated book successfully conveys the experience of being a stranger in a new city and the process of understanding our own identity.

THE BIG ANIMAL PARADE

By Julie Colombet

October 2021
31 x 26 cm
48 pages – Soft touch cover
€ 15.95

Julie Colombet groups animals by their common, yet surprising, bizarre, and bold traits, like silly family portraits, inviting us to observe their behaviors and appearances in extraordinary detail.

In fact, the animals seem to be staring at us, too, with their big, round, white eyes—the celebrated animal illustrator's signature trait.

A gorgeous, quirky book full of animals as you've never seen them before!

Who knew? Frogs don't have to be green and not all birds fly. Some animals are blue, while others are albino. Some baby animals look nothing like the adults they'll become, and some males and females of the same species look completely different. Some animals hibernate or are awake at night, and others have long hair or a mask!

APRIL FOOL'S AT GUNKY HOLLOW

After they are called by Mrs. Frog for help, Inspector Oslo and Miss Kiss review the damage: the pond at Gunky Hollow is almost dry. Even though it's April 1st, this is no joke—the fish are in danger! But how can so much water have disappeared?

While Inspector Rex carries out questioning, Oslo and Miss Kiss hear some happy quack-quacking. They find out that Mr. Duck diverted the pond water to make a pool for his ducklings! Fortunately, they can quickly fix his mistake.

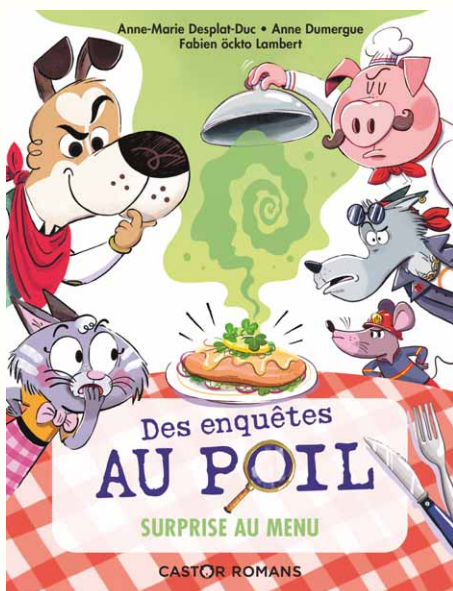

VOL. 5

A SURPRISE ON THE MENU

Inspector Oslo and Miss Kiss are having a lovely evening at a restaurant. But the ambiance suddenly changes when Lourock, a famous singer, sits down at a nearby table. The discussion between him and the fox with him is a stormy one. Then, during dessert, Lourock chokes on his food! Could it be poison?

Eliminating the suspects one by one, Oslo and Miss Kiss will solve this new mystery in the kitchen. In fact, no one was trying to poison Lourock—the singer just had an allergic reaction to peanut oil!

BANDIT, DOG GENIUS

By Pascal Brissy & Mehdi Dewalle

June 2021
14,7 x 18,9 cm
48 pages
€ 5.95

VOL. 1 - THE RIVER MONSTER

Bandit is Leonardo da Vinci's dog. Dopey and clumsy, he's far from a genius! Yet despite himself, he manages to secretly solve his beloved master's crimes and never hesitates to face up to his rival, Machiavelli.

Bandit introduces us to the world of Leonardo da Vinci!

Bandit and Leonardo da Vinci have just heard the news: a monster is threatening the work site along the river. The dog investigates and discovers two huge yellow eyes on the other side of the Arno river. Listening to nothing but his courage, he throws himself in the water, but being a poor swimmer, he is quickly swept up by his master, who sends him back home.

That's where Bandit discovers the truth: the monster was entirely invented by Nicolas Machiavelli, Leonardo's rival, to get him out of his house so that he could steal some of his inventions. Fortunately, Bandit is there to stop him!

VOL. 2 - MONA LISA'S NECKLACE

Mona Lisa's necklace has disappeared from Leonardo da Vinci's studio! To save his master's honor, Bandit is on the hunt! His first clues take him nowhere, so he goes back home in disappointment.

There, he finds a mysterious letter, delivered just that morning, bearing Machiavelli's seal. For Bandit, there's no doubt about it —Leonardo's sinister rival is definitely involved in the necklace's disappearance! The dog's hunch was right, and Leonardo is relieved to find his model's necklace!

Aouni's vacation is over and the little girl is getting ready to leave her grandparents' house and return home.

As she and her cat Finou are walking through the market of Abu Simbel for the last time, they are kidnapped by a group of bandits. They find themselves trapped inside a temple, where a sinister priest forces the young magician to make gods and goddesses appear in order to make him rich.

Fortunately, just like Aouni and Finou, the Egyptian gods aren't fooled, and they have a funny surprise in store for the five bandits!

Set in ancient Egypt—a setting rarely seen in books for this age group.

VOL. 2: THE EVIL MUMMY

In the Valley of the Kings and Queens, which houses the tombs of the pharaohs and royal families, the workers have disappeared. For two nights, a mummy has been walking the streets letting out terrifying screams. For Heka, the only worker who has stayed in the village, the mummy is a dead man who wants revenge for a sacrilege. Aouni and Finou are having a hard time believing him and decide to investigate...

They discover that someone is taking advantage of the situation to pillage the tombs. There's no doubt about it—the mummy and the thief are one in the same. With Heka's help, Aouni and Finou set a trap to thwart his plan and free the village from his evil scheme.

THE HAUNTED COLLECTION

THE NEW GOOSBUMP SERIES FOR A GREAT CHILL!

HAUNTED

- Aimed at readers aged ten and up
- Only 5.95e for each 120-page book
- Standalone stories that offer a genuinely spine-tingling take on everyday situations
- A series that plumbs the depths of the spooky, the scary and the downright terrifying
- Children will love the thrilling prospect of an entertaining and subversive reading experience

Although scary stories are currently proving very popular and attract significant interest from young people, few pre-teen novels take horror seriously — for this age group, scary subject matter (including superstitions, monsters and unexplained events) is often given a sugar-coated treatment that sees it shifted it towards other genres like fantasy and humour...

THE CURSED DOLL

By Amélie Antoine

Thaïs (age 12) and Margot (age 11) have always been very close and played with the same toys. But while they are on vacation, Margot falls in love with an old doll dressed in lace with shiny curls, whom she immediately buys and names Rosemonde. From that point, she cannot be separated from the doll for even a second and starts talking to her as if she is a real person.

Thaïs can't help feeling uncomfortable in the presence of the doll, with her intense gaze and fixed smile. In fact, it seems like the doll is watching her!

A family nightmare: a young heroine who tries to save her sister from the destructive control of a cursed doll.

Evokes the classic fear of the evil doll or puppet, brilliantly revisited with a chilling final twist.

THE DEADLY CAMPING TRIP

By Thibault Vermot

A group of friends (more or less), a night in the middle of the forest... it's worse than your worst nightmare!

This is the first time that Thibald, age 13, is camping out in nature. It will be an adventure without adults, just friends—Tom and Sacha, who are twins, and Juliette. Unfortunately, an intruder is joining the expedition as well: Juliette has to bring Aymeric, her gifted brother. No one likes Aymeric—he's weird and spends all his time painting fantasy creatures on cards. He even brought his painting materials camping—who does that?

But later, Thibald and the others realize they should have been more careful with how they were treating Aymeric, because in the middle of the night, all kinds of terrible creatures suddenly start attacking them in their tent...

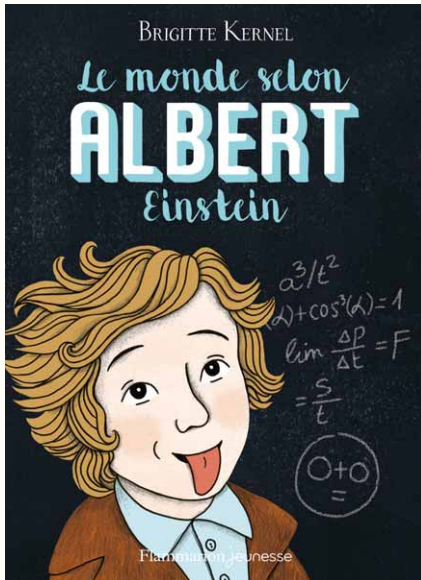

Shocking, intense scenes make for a memorable reading experience.

Imagine the fear of spending a night out in the wild, far from everything, at the mercy of monsters hiding in the darkness.

EINSTEIN: A CHILDHOOD APART

By Brigitte Kernel

available
13,5 x 21 cm
190 pages
€ 12.00

A dunce, a dreamer, and just plain different – Einstein was a misunderstood child who grew up to be a genius.

Albert Einstein is a funny kid. At almost 10, he still can't say his words properly and his classmates are always making fun of him. Yet Albert knows that he's not stupid: he knows how to do complicated calculations and asks lots of questions about the universe!

But how can he speak without stuttering, so that he can free his thoughts and prove to the world that he is intelligent? With the help of his dog Chicken and his family, Albert will learn how to open up to others and finally show his incredible intelligence.

- A novel about the strength of differences.
- A childhood that demystifies the notion of genius.

LOON'S SONG

THE GANG OF POETS

By Alexandre Chardin

April 2021
14,5 x 21 cm
216 pages
€ 10.90

A brilliant novel in verse, which rhymes “city” with “complicity,” “solidarity,” and “liberty.”

Julien is about to go back to school, and he's fearing the worst. His dad is sending him to Rostrand Middle School, where only the most disadvantaged kids in the city go. Julien's first challenge: fitting in as the mayor's son, the new kid who prefers the groove of a trumpet to the flow of rap. His second challenge: shining for proud Nour and surviving his brother's machine-gun-stare. At first, things seem off to a bad start, but then Julien meets his best friends, and together they put together a unique musical project (rap, piano, and trumpet) to make their voices heard!

Four ultra-likeable middle schoolers free themselves with the power of words.

THE ANIMALS' TURN

Already sold in Italian!

In 2086, the human species becomes extinct.
But that leaves everyone else.

In a world devastated by viruses, only wild animals are left. Some circus animals find themselves loaded onto a boat by the last living humans. It was said that northern Canada had been relatively spared and could be repopulated. But the thirteen men and women did not survive the journey. This is where our story truly begins: when the boat washes up on the Mexican coast, three bulls, one cow, four elephants, a panther, and a python step onto the shore. To face this strange and savage new world, these animals will have to work together despite their differences.

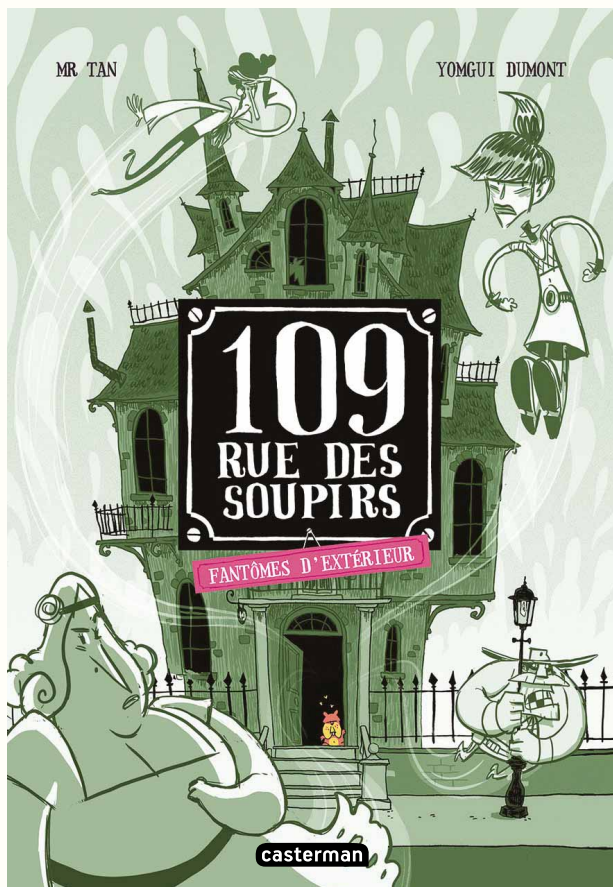

- A unique and ultra-contemporary experience that takes on animals' point of view.
- A beautifully written post-apocalyptic odyssey.
- Animals are viewed as individuals, with each species having its own conscience—an important theme for teens (with many being eco-conscious and more and more becoming vegetarians)

€ 12.95

After Evolution and the Evolution of Humans comes this new, playful foray into the world of science!

The four characters (a near infallible scientist, two curious children, and a mediator full of received ideas) embark on a sailboat trip around the world. From northern France to the Pacific Ocean, they learn about marine life on the coasts, how tides form, the food chain from plankton to sharks, the ocean depths, the beauty of the coral reefs, but also the effects of climate change on ice floes, visible and invisible forms of pollution, the "plastic continent," and the real threats these things pose for biodiversity. The journey back home is an opportunity to envision what can be done to protect our precious and fragile oceans. This important goal is brought to life with the humorous interaction between the book's colorful characters.

The ocean world is a fascinating theme for children.
A helpful introduction to marine environmentalism.

A trip around the world on a sailboat to learn everything about the marine world, which needs to be preserved now more than ever!

A story for teens about the dangers of social media.

- An accurate, fair look at teens today.
- In line with the Netflix series 13 Reasons Why.

Their names are Aïssa, Kim, Aubin, Arno, and Vanessa. They are all high school students who dream of rap, cosplay, and environmentalism.

Future rappers Fodé and Maël feel more at ease with words than YouTube algorithms, until the day when a mysterious green fist appearing on a wall in the background of their video is found tagged on the exterior of their school. A conspiracy is brewing... Meanwhile, Aïssa, Julie, and some of their friends are facing another kind of buzz: someone photographed them in the bathroom and put the pictures online. The site was shut down, but the photos had time to circulate and provoke reactions.

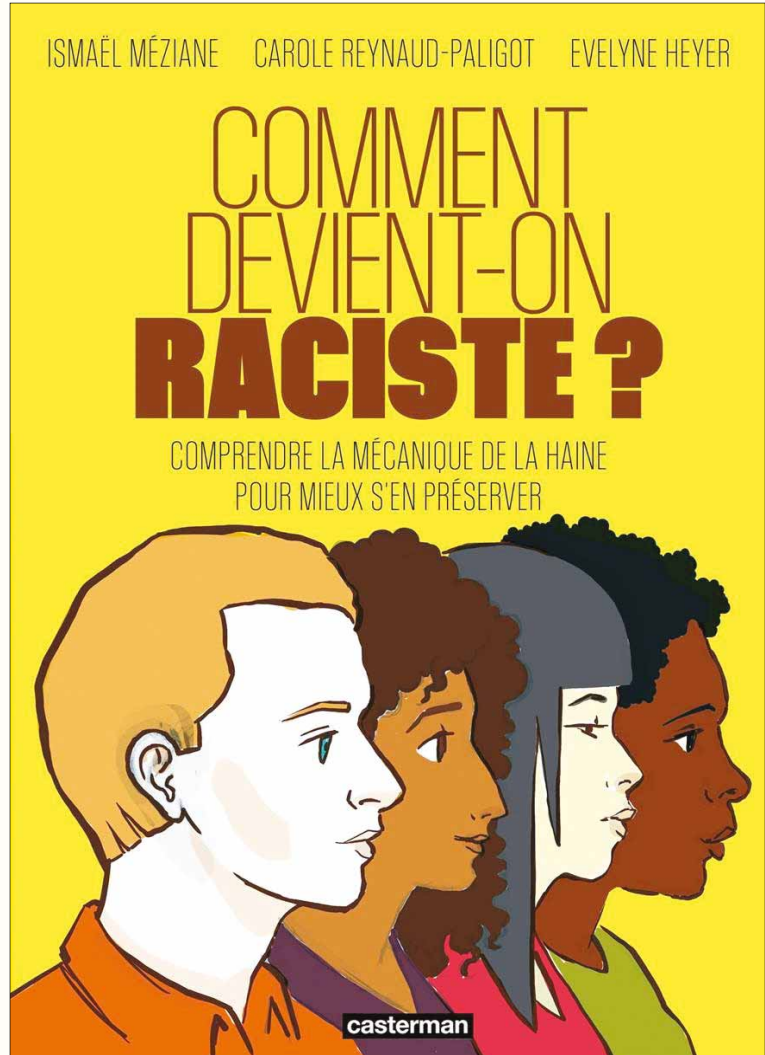

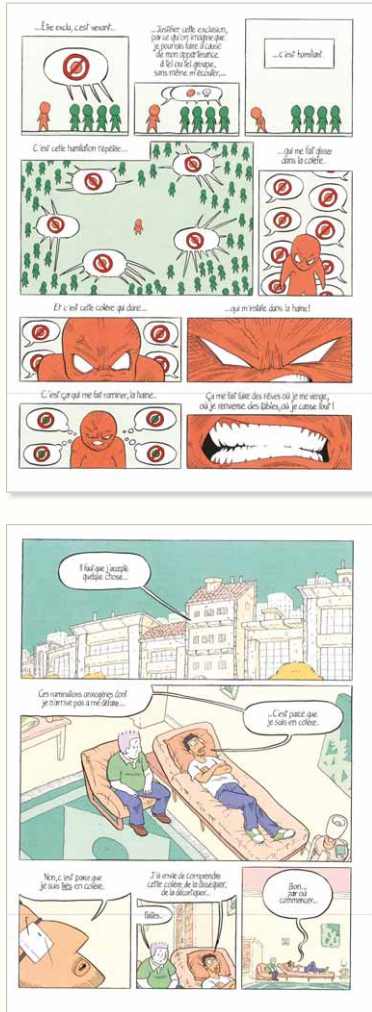

Aimed at teens, the two stories in this book ask pertinent questions: What is popularity? Where does harassment start? How does a conspiracy get put into motion? And above all: is there a miracle recipe for getting a maximum number of YouTube views?

HOW DO YOU BECOME RACIST?

By Ismaël Méziane, Carole Reynaud-Paligot & Evelyne Heyer

May 2021
19 x 26,8 cm
72 pages
€ 16.00

To tackle racism, it's not enough to declare yourself as non-racist. We must also understand where racism comes from.

Ismaël Méziane, a graphic novelist who has personally experienced racism, takes to the stage. He offers a narrative that mixes personal reflections and conversations with two experts in order to identify and understand the mechanisms at the origin of racism. The book offers knowledge and emotions to kindle awareness and new representations. For example, Ismaël explains how certain characteristics were set up as differences and used to confine individuals to fixed representations and put them into categories (stereotypes), when in fact each human being is unique. At times, this led some to produce a hierarchy of individuals as well as an essentialism that considered the characteristics in question to be unchangeable and passed down from generation to generation, when in fact human beings are constantly changing through diversity and evolution.

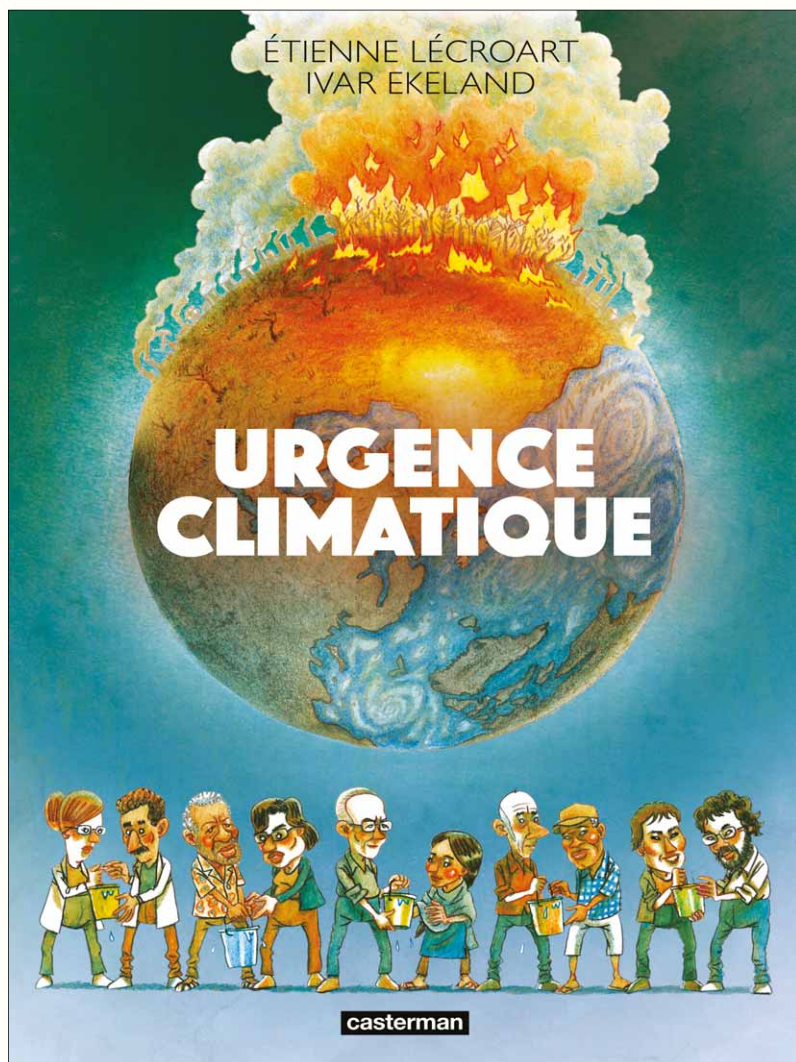

- A useful work in a time witnessing the herd mentality of conservatives and the spread of outdated ideologies.
- An efficient, attractive graphic style keeping with the times to pass on important social themes to younger generations.

CLIMATE EMERGENCY

By Étienne Lécroart & Ivar Ekeland

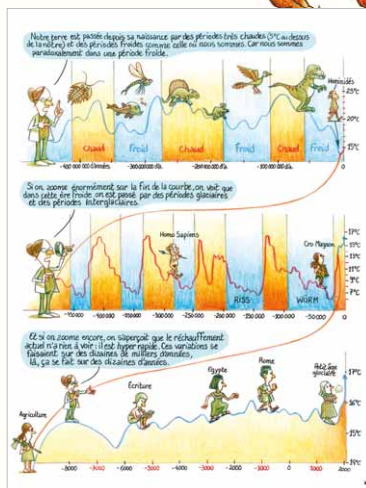

available
18,4 x 26 cm
120 pages
€ 19.00

A graphic novel to help readers understand climate change and its consequences: it's urgent!

February 2020: Etienne Lécroart has a strange and frightening dream that forces him to confront his fears about global warming: we are sacrificing future generations! Through a dialogue with mathematician and economist Ivar Ekeland, he examines the issue of global warming from a scientific and economic point of view in order to better understand the current situation and to reflect on what we can do to preserve our living environment in the long term.

Effective and visual style paired with a didactic and humorous tone.

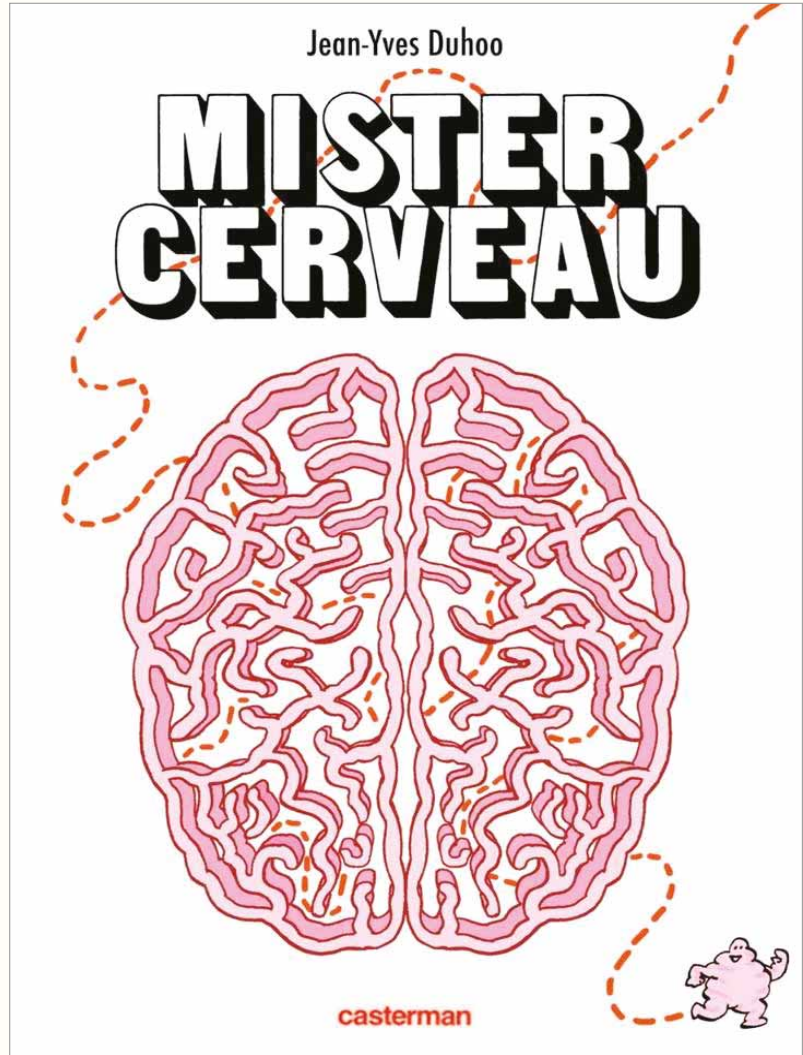

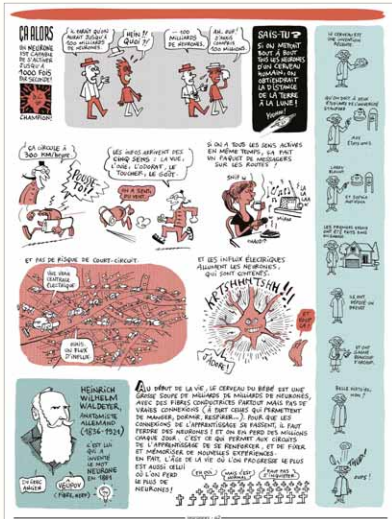

MISTER BRAIN

By Jean-Yves Duhoo

May 2021
18,4 x 26 cm
80 pages
€ 16.00

How well do we really know this amazing organ of ours?

An author with an effective visual style and a tone that is at once didactic and accessible to a wide audience.

Jean-Yves Duhoo investigates his subject in the field, in books and among scientists to explain in an accessible, colorful and sometimes humorous manner, the mysteries of our central control system. He tries to approach the topic from different angles while staying in tune with the latest scientific discoveries as well as those to come. The reader will get to know his own brain, his central piloting system, sometimes via some surprising information: the brain is wrinkled, because it has grown in the cranium over the course of evolution; it is 80% water; a rat's brain is roughly the same as a human's, but smaller; and so on.

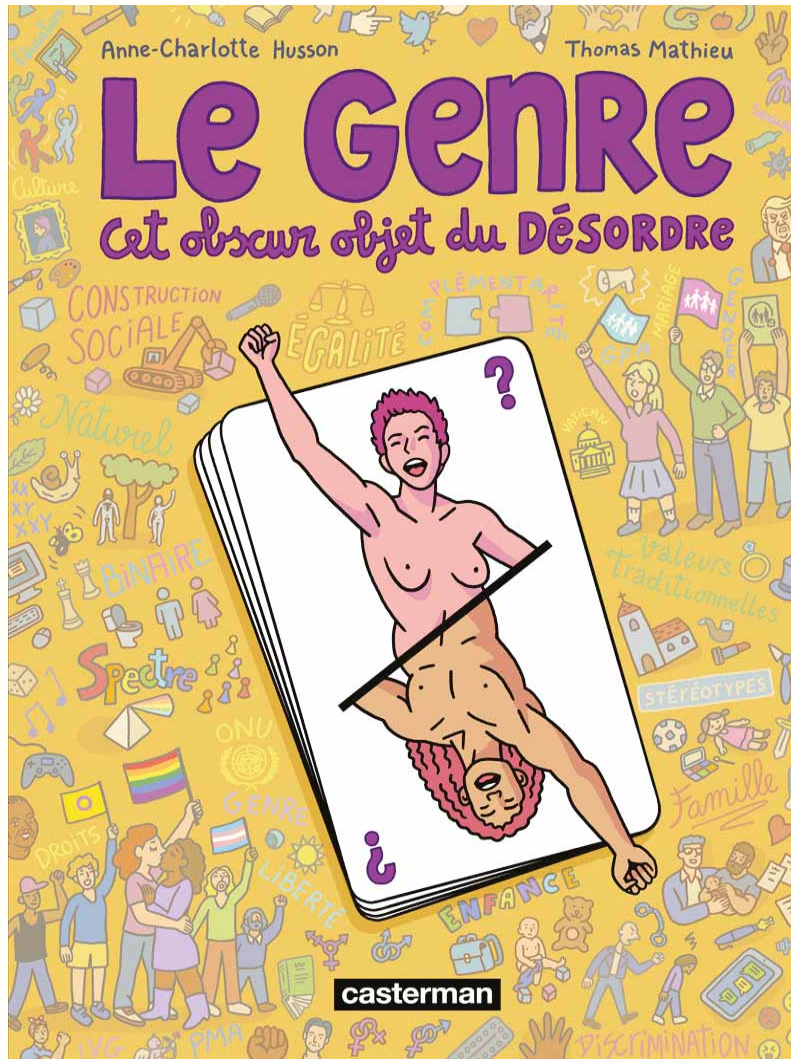

GENDER

By Thomas Mathieu & Anne-Charlotte Husson

available
18,4 x 26 cm
96 pages
€ 18.00

Learn all about the concept of gender to finally understand this great subject of debate that animates and divides society.

The 2010s saw the development of a transnational movement opposing a concept that remains slightly unknown to the general public: gender. In France, this is reflected in a controversy, which, among others, overlaps other debates around legalizing marriage for same-sex couples. In Poland and Hungary, gender rejection is intrinsically linked to the intolerant transformations underway. There is a similar moral panic at work in countries like Italy, Slovenia and Colombia. This comic book essay sketches parallels between countries and paints a portrait of a conservative movement for which questioning gender represents a threat to society and even civilization. The graphic novel is aimed at a broad audience wishing to better understand the renewed energy of ultra-conservative and religious movements that lies at the heart of recent wins by far-right politicians.

- Complicated concepts conveyed efficiently in a visual style that is readable and easily accessible.
- A book fully in tune with the times.
